

Foundation Award Student Code of Conduct

Introduction

In all our interactions with each other we should strive to be beyond reproach. This Code describes safe, godly and loving ways to behave towards those outside our immediate family who we interact with in our studies .

Each year, you will be asked to confirm that you have read and understood the Code, and that you will act in accordance with it. If you are unable to agree to abide by this Code, please make an appointment with your tutor or Andrew Nicholls, Director of Pastoral Care, as a matter of urgency.

Your commitments

I will:

- Treat everyone with dignity, keeping my language, attitude and body language respectful
- Speak up about inappropriate attitudes and behaviour that might be harmful to others
- Obtain consent before taking photographs/video of anyone.
- Never use sexually provocative words or gestures
- Never scapegoat, ridicule or reject an individual or group or allow others to do so
- Not invade an individual's privacy
- Recognise that the Intellectual Property rights for course materials and delivery rest with the Kingham Hill Trust. I will participate in the course with this recognition in view and will not share the course materials or access codes with anyone who is not registered on the course.

Your duty to report

I will immediately notify the College if I am or become:

- Arrested, charged or convicted of any criminal offence
- Subject to an investigation for any allegation of a disciplinary nature at any other organisation, including any at which I am a volunteer

Each year you will be asked to confirm the following:

I agree to adhere to this Code of Conduct.

I am aware of the College Safeguarding Policy and the Safeguarding Essentials, and know that I can access them on the College's VLE and website.
