Programme Learning Outcomes

	Knowledge and Understanding
A1	An advanced and thorough understanding of parts of Scripture, their relation to the whole, and how to interpret them
A2	A systematic and advanced understanding of selected doctrines of the Christian faith, and/or periods of church history and historical theology, and their significance for the contemporary church at a local, national and/or global level
A3	An advanced understanding of how the Christian faith engages with various complex contemporary ethical and pastoral issues and debates, and of how different worldviews intersect with and inform those issues
A4	An advanced understanding of the interconnectedness of the various elements within the disciplines of theology
A5	A thorough understanding of the methodological, philosophical and hermeneutical models and assumptions used in the study of theology
A6	The knowledge and understanding required to engage and interact at a high level with the material/subjects studied, seen in the ability to reflect critically on their own particular standpoint/pre-suppositions and to understand the methodological and hermeneutical issues involved
	Skills
B1	For a given task, demonstrate a practical deployment of a variety of appropriate and established methodologies/techniques of research and enquiry to create and interpret knowledge within the discipline and develop appropriate critiques
B2	Critically and reflectively engage with advanced scholarship in the theological disciplines, assessing views and theories with charity, fairness and sensitivity and, where appropriate, proposing alternatives
B3	Construct and articulate an integrative, coherent, well-informed and sustained argument, and develop original application of knowledge and understanding into new areas and/or with a view to addressing new problems
B4	Deal systematically and creatively with complex issues and developments in Christian theology and/or professional practice (whether nationally, internationally or cross-culturally) and make sound judgements, sometimes in the absence of complete data
B5	Communicate clearly, sensitively, engagingly and with integrity to specialist and non-specialist audiences alike, using an appropriate range of media and appropriate forms of communication for the intended audience
B6	Take responsibility for identifying and learning new skills as part of a commitment to lifelong learning; and take initiative in planning and implementing tasks which will advance their knowledge and understanding in both independent and inter-dependent ways
B7	Demonstrate self-direction, initiative, independence, originality and an appropriate level of competence in planning and implementing a substantial dissertation (or a short dissertation and short project)
B8	(Where relevant) identify any ethical issues raised by their research and comply with relevant codes of practice
