Programme Learning Outcomes

Knowledge and Understanding
A1	An advanced and thorough understanding of parts of Scripture, their relation to the whole, and how to interpret them
A2	An advanced understanding of the interconnectedness of the various elements within the disciplines of theology
A3	A thorough understanding of the methodological, philosophical and hermeneutical models and assumptions used in the study of theology
A4	The knowledge and understanding required to engage and interact at a high level with the material/subjects studied, seen in the ability to reflect critically on their own particular standpoint/pre-suppositions and to understand the methodological and hermeneutical issues involved
Skills
B1	Critically and reflectively engage with advanced scholarship in the theological disciplines, assessing views and theories with charity, fairness and sensitivity and, where appropriate, proposing alternatives
B2	Construct and articulate an integrative, coherent, well-informed and sustained argument and develop original application of knowledge and understanding into new areas and/or with a view to addressing new problems
B3	Communicate clearly, sensitively, engagingly and with integrity to specialist and non-specialist audiences alike, using an appropriate range of media and appropriate forms of communication for the intended audience
B4	Take responsibility for identifying and learning new skills as part of a commitment to lifelong learning; and take initiative in planning and implementing tasks which will advance their knowledge and understanding in both independent and inter-dependent ways
